Letter from Board President & Executive Director

What makes for a sense of community? We think it includes the feeling its members have of belonging to one another and to the group as a whole. And the belief its members have that their needs will be met through their commitment to each other. That’s the fundamental mission of the Branford Community Foundation, “to connect people who care with causes that matter.”

To strengthen the Branford community, the Foundation has just concluded an active and successful year. The assets with which we can meet the diverse needs of our citizens have increased 16% in 2017 to a record $2.4 million. This enabled us to provide our largest grant ever to the James Blackstone Memorial Library through a $100,000 challenge grant (payable over 4 years) to energize local support for the campaign. In an effort to encourage broad community support for the expansion and renovation, BCF committed to matching each donation dollar for dollar up to $1,000 that came into the campaign. The Library met the goal and raised $100,000 within a year—demonstrating that the Blackstone’s proposed project is one that the community not only needs, but is willing to support financially as well.

In response to a significant increase in grant funding availability over the past few years, the Board undertook an initiative to ensure that our process for grant investments into the community is fair, transparent, and impactful. The results included a revision of both the grant application guidelines as well as the application document itself and, significantly, the move to a single, annual deadline. The new process took effect January 1, 2018.

In addition, we completed our second full year of the Shoreline Nonprofit Workshop Sessions, in partnership with the Guilford Foundation and the Shoreline Chamber of Commerce. The 2017 series—designed to provide cutting-edge professional development to organizations serving Guilford and Branford—had 95 attendees, with an average of 27 people for each of the 4 sessions, representing 34 different organizations. As a result of our work on this initiative, Executive Director Liza Janssen Petra was honored with an award from the Shoreline Chamber of Commerce for Community Service of the Year Award in January 2017.

BCF continued to pursue leadership initiatives in 2017, including convening a partnership with the Community Foundation for Greater New Haven to produce a Branford Community Report that provides a snapshot of Branford’s demographic trends and general community well being. The report is based on local, state and federal public data analyzed by DataHaven, a New Haven-based non-profit organization specializing in analytics, and is available on our website.

We couldn’t have done all of this without all of you, our partners in making Branford the strong community that it is today. Your generosity is inspiring. We feel incredibly lucky to be part of it.

Most sincerely,

Stephanie Farber, President             Liza Janssen Petra, Executive Director

YOUTH
Access to summer camps, children in need, early childhood education

CIVIC ENGAGEMENT
Historical preservation, volunteerism, community events and enhancements
How to Give

In December 2017 Congress enacted a sweeping tax law revision—the most comprehensive changes in more than 30 years. How these changes impact you and your family’s charitable giving depends on a number of factors, including your tax bracket, age, and financial portfolio. Fortunately, the Branford Community Foundation has a number of options to assist you in your short- and long-term philanthropic goals. We encourage you to work with your financial advisors to identify how you can best take advantage of the new laws and reach out to us with any questions. Create a permanent legacy in Branford by establishing a named fund for yourself, your family, or a loved one. The minimum amount required to establish a fund is $10,000. To help reach your philanthropic goals, we offer an “Acorn Fund” option, which allows interested donors 5 years to reach the $10,000 minimum.

If you are not ready to create a charitable fund but want to contribute to our efforts to enrich the quality of life in Branford, provide a direct donation of any amount at any time to the general fund or any one of our existing charitable funds. These gifts can be made in honor or memory of a loved one or in recognition of a special occasion.

Finally, consider a gift to our operating fund, which allows us to maintain our visibility in the community; provide leadership around community issues; raise new dollars to invest back into the organizations that serve Branford; and provide excellent stewardship for our existing funds.

Gifts can be accepted from cash, stock or other assets; bequests; or planning a future gift through your IRA or insurance policy.

Summary Statements

The Branford Foundation’s assets increased 16% to a record $2.4 million in 2017, driven by strong investment returns that delivered $389,840 to the endowment, more than double 2016 results. Contributions were a solid $132,745. The combination of investment gains and solid financial support from the community allowed the Foundation to distribute $116,970 in grants, scholarships and leadership initiatives, an all-time high. Operating expenses fell 15% to $82,100, reflecting the Foundation’s close attention to costs and efficiency.

Our Finance Committee works with the professionals at the Community Foundation for Greater New Haven to preserve and grow our endowment. TGF’s individual funds are pooled together and invested in a diversified portfolio.

JAMES BLACKSTONE MEMORIAL LIBRARY

In 2017, the Branford Community Foundation committed the largest single award in its 38-year history to the James Blackstone Memorial Library to support its efforts to adapt and improve a 19th century building to accommodate 21st century technology and community needs. BCF provided a $100,000 challenge grant (payable over 4 years) to energize local support for the campaign.

Like libraries across the county, the Blackstone has grown to be more than just a location to check out books or movies. It is a de facto community center, where job seekers have access to databases to search for jobs or update their resumes; where school-aged kids can enhance their education with technology or knitting clubs; where parents can connect with other parents; where seniors can learn how to use the internet more effectively or hear a lecture; where the community can access arts and culture through plays and musical events; where people in crisis can meet with a lawyer or find support; among other things.

A recent study the BCF produced with DataHaven and the Community Foundation for Greater New Haven showed that annual visits to the James Blackstone Memorial Library increased from 3 per capita in 2004 to 8 in 2014—a 267% growth in visits over ten years. Based on the unique and critical role the Blackstone has grown to play in the Branford community, and recognizing that the existing configuration does not meet the current and future needs of the community, BCF decided to not only commit to the effort, but to provide the single largest grant in our history.

This commitment, however, came with strings attached. The intent for the $100,000 grant was to encourage and demonstrate broad community support for the expansion and renovation. BCF committed to matching each donation dollar for dollar up to $1,000 that came into the campaign. The Library met the goal and raised $100,000 within a year—demonstrating that the Blackstone’s proposed project is one that the community not only needs, but is willing to support financially as well.

The mission of the Branford Community Foundation is to connect people who care with the causes that matter, and the matching grant to the Blackstone Campaign project has been wonderful example of that.

THE LASALA FAMILY FUND FOR ANIMALS

As a founder of the Daniel P. Cosgrove Animal Shelter and Branford Compassion Club, Eunice Lasala has dedicated decades to the care and protection of animals. Now, her commitment has become the purpose of Branford Community Foundation’s new Lasala Family Fund for Animals.

A long-serving BCF board member and past president, Eunice has encouraged many to establish BCF legacy funds. Grants from funds help sustain BCF’s mission to connect people who care with causes that matter for the purpose of preserving and promoting the quality of life in the Branford community now and for years to come.

“Anything people are interested in—whatever their passion is—they can go to Branford Community Foundation and a fund can be set up to meet their specific desires or needs,” says Eunice.

With her final BCF term arriving in 2018, Eunice and her husband, Tony, set their own philanthropic goal: creating a fund for the care and humane protection of Branford animals (domestic, feral, or wild).

“I’ve always had a great love for any animal. I started the Branford Compassion Club 22 years ago because I was out there feeding feral cats and trapping them for neutering and vaccinations,” Eunice explains. “Right about the time we became a non-profit, we petitioned then First Selectman “Unk” DaRos because we needed an animal shelter in town. We gathered the facts he required, raised $150,000 for a matching grant, and opened the Dan Cosgrove Animal Shelter. With Laura Burban as director, it’s become one of the state’s best municipal shelters.”

The Lasalas elected to endow their fund through BCF’s “build-a-fund” option. The option allows donors five years to reach a $10,000 milestone, creating a perfect opportunity for family and friends to contribute to birthday, holiday, or other special occasion gifts. In just a few months, contributions to the Lasala Family Fund have exceeded $14,375. BCF will start awarding grants from this fund in 2019, according to BCF Executive Director Liza Janssen Petra.

“I’m very excited,” says Eunice. “I feel very fortunate to have friends, and very fortunate to have been part of the Branford Community Foundation. It’s such a wonderful organization, and it’s becoming better-known for helping Branford, thanks to Liza Janssen Petra, our Executive Director, and all the board members. They are wonderful people of enormous integrity.”

“Feed Branford Kids first received a grant from Branford Community Foundation in 2014 — the year we started — to provide food to Branford school children on the weekends. The first weekend, we served seven elementary school children with backpacks with two meals and snacks for the weekend. Today we provide food to an average of 200 kids per week, which equates to approximately 1,600 meals per month. We cannot thank you enough for your continuing support.”
